The following table shows the results of the regression analysis for the dependent variable $\ln Y$ (ln of the dependent variable). The table is divided into two main sections: the top section shows the results for the full sample, and the bottom section shows the results for the subsample of firms that are not in the top 100. The columns represent the different variables included in the regression model, and the rows represent the different regression specifications. The first column is the dependent variable, $\ln Y$. The second column is the constant term. The third column is the variable $\ln X$. The fourth column is the variable $\ln Z$. The fifth column is the variable $\ln W$. The sixth column is the variable $\ln V$. The seventh column is the variable $\ln U$. The eighth column is the variable $\ln T$. The ninth column is the variable $\ln S$.
